Grade Price Support Rates For 1978-Crop Flue-Cured Tobacco Announced

Payment rates by grades which producers will receive for 1978-crop flue-cured tobacco delivered for support range from 73 cents to $1.55 a pound. The rates are the same for tied and untied tobacco.

The rates reflect an average support of $1.21 a pound, about 6.3 percent above 1977. Increases over 1977 grade rates range from 1-10 cents per pound.

As in past years, growers will offer their tobacco at auction warehouses. Advances will be made available through the Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation to farmers who plant within their farm acreage allotments or 120 percent of their farm acreage allotment with agreement not to harvest the four lower leaves, designate the warehouses at which their tobacco will be offered, and certify that they have not used pesticides containing DDT, TDE, toxaphene or endrin on their tobacco; advances are available on marketings not in excess of 110 percent of farmers' poundage quotas. Marketings over the farm poundage quota will be subtracted from next year's quota.

As in the past, no advances will be offered on any tobacco graded N2 (second quality non-descript), No-G (no grade), U (unsound), W (doubtful keeping order), or scrap. Marketings of these grades, however, will be charged against the quotas for the farms upon which they were produced.

Crop Acreage Certification

July 31 is the final date to report soybeans and grain sorghum acreage. If you double cropped small grain acreage or planted additional acreage of these crops since you certified, be sure and stop by the ASCS office to update your report.

July 25-31, National Farm Safety Week

The 1978 National Farm Safety Week marks the 35th observance of this special activity co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Farm Safety Week is designed to call attention to measures that should be taken to reduce accident losses to farm families, their employees and visitors. The theme of this year's observance is "Manage to Prevent Farm and Ranch Accidents." Farm safety leaders believe that most farm accidents could be prevented with greater care in controlling hazards and unsafe practices. Accident prevention must be a farm management goal, the farm must be informed about safety, and know the applicable safe practices and requirements of laws concerning safety and health. Farm accidents are among the costliest impediments to production and cause great suffering and economic loss. The National Safety Council and USDA encourage farmers to take part in the nationwide activity and regard safety as an integral part of all their activities.

Agricultural Conservation Program

The signup for the Agricultural Conservation Program is currently on and will continue through July 31. Last week a newsletter was sent out advising of the practices offered and the cost-share rates. Please check the newsletter if you are interested in the program, or come by the ASCS office.

Is it bad to cut down a tree?

YES! We need trees for campgrounds, shade for picnics in city parks, as watersheds, and homes for wildlife. We need our trees, and forests are nice places to visit.

NO! We need trees for wood and paper products, fine furniture, kitchen cabinets, dog houses, cardboard boxes, tennis racquets and golf clubs. We need to cut some trees to open new areas for wildlife and to let in sunlight for newly planted trees. We have to cut down trees in order to use them.

So it is bad to cut down a tree? Well yes and no, sometimes, maybe not . . . ? Actually, we need trees for all these reasons, for preservation and wise use. Naturally it would be foolish to cut trees for lumber from wilderness areas, campgrounds or around our homes. These trees do their jobs best left as they are.

On the other hand, over 60 million seedlings are planted each year in Virginia as a crop; these are being grown specifically for the paper and wood products we will need after the year 2000.

When it comes to natural resources like trees, a balanced approach to cutting works best. We need trees for many uses. Nobody wants to do without his morning paper, or pay $10 for a 2 x 4 just so he can have wilderness. But with modern forest management—man working with Nature—we can preserve some areas and still enjoy the wood and paper products from the "100 foot tree" each one of us uses up every year.

Trees are a big asset to Virginians. And this is the story the Virginia Forestry Association has been telling to school children, legislators, planners, teachers and the general public since 1943. But trees can't talk and defend themselves—we have to do that. VFA leads the way through programs like the "Big Tree Search," forestry scholarships, "Keep Virginia Green" poster contest, Tree Farm program, field trips, and legislative programs that support tree planting and conservation.

The Virginia Forestry Association is a non-profit, privately supported association of conservation-minded citizens and clubs, foresters, Tree Farmers, businesses, and the forest products industry. Founded in 1943, VFA encourages the wise use of forest resources in Virginia for present and future generations. In 1967 the Association was named "Conservation Organization of the Year" by the Virginia Wildlife Federation. Other distinctions include 1970 Trade Association Award by Keep Virginia Beautiful, Inc.; 1971 Distinguished Public Service Award by Keep America Beautiful, Inc.; and the 1975 Merit Award of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

Be Somebody Special—Join VFA

It takes people like you to plant, protect and conserve trees. Whether it's fall colors, consumer products, hiking and camping, tree farming or the price of lumber in your new home—we all have a stake in Virginia's forests. Join VFA today and become a part of the voice of forestry in Virginia.
